Regional diversity a priority for Community Conference

By ALISON ALOISIO

The third Community Conference to be held in Bethel in 10 years will likely have a more regional flavor than in the past.

The conference's theme is "Neighbors Sharing Ideas for a Better Future." The gathering is scheduled for Nov. 14 at the Bethel Inn Conference Center.

Other conferences took place in 1987 and 1991, and led to the formation of such organizations as the Mahoosuc Arts Council, the Bethel Conservation Commission, the Mahoosuc Land Trust and a retirement community study committee.

Cathy Newell of Greenwood, a conference organizer, said a majority of the participants in the earlier conferences were from Bethel. "But we're trying to tip that a little to be more representative of the population," she said. "There has been more emphasis on personal contact and outreach to the other towns. Nan (Timberlake) and her (publicity) committee have been putting in a lot of effort outside Bethel."

The last conference drew between 100 and 150 people. Registrations so far are running around 50 to 60. With a week to go, that puts organizers "right on target," said Newell. "We're pleased with how it's going."

She said it appears municipal officers will have a larger representation than in the past.

Details of the day

The conference will take place from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the 14th. All sessions are free of charge. Lunch will be available from the Bethel Inn at a charge of $6.25, or participants may bring their own.

During the day conferees will share information about the organization they may be representing, tell about their special interest, describe situations which concern them, discuss possibilities for greater success with their projects or those of others and plan steps of action to follow the conference.

The discussions will take place in Homebuilding volunteer now tackling her own

Eileen Opie of Bethel helped build six houses over eight years for other people as part of a Community Concepts volunteer program. This year she decided to build one for herself. Opie, a teacher at Crescent Park Elementary School, started working summers on Oxford County volunteer building projects in 1988. Meanwhile, she continued her own life as an apartment dweller. But, "having my own house has always been a long-term goal," she said. After volunteering for those years, she said, "I thought it would be fun to do it myself," she said.

The time finally came when she could finance a house. Bethel builder Don Isham has also volunteered on the house projects. He was an obvious choice for general contractor.

So obvious, said Opie, that "we didn't really even talk about it. We just did it."

Opie's plans called for a 1,400-square-foot, Cape-style house, to be built on a .6 acre lot on Paradise Road.

Work on the house started in June. She helped clear the lot, and when it was time to dig the cellar hole, Opie dug the first bucketful of dirt using a subcontractor's excavator.

How did she do?

"It would have been better if I could have remembered left from right," she said.

From the ground up, it's been

Compact falls hard here

By MICHAEL DANIELS

They turned out in numbers far greater than predicted and sent a clear message: "No, to the Forest Compact."

Nearly half of eligible voters in this area showed up to cast their ballots in Tuesday's off-year election -- despite predictions that only one in four would bother.

The Compact appeared to be the great motivator. While it failed statewide by a relatively narrow margin of 53 percent to 47 percent, it was blasted here by a margin of nearly four to one.

Area voters also turned thumbs down to a bond issue aimed at providing adaptive equipment for the disabled and increasing the accessibility of small businesses, the University of Maine and the State House. That preference, however, was overridden by voters statewide, who approved the bond issue by a margin of 55 percent to 45 percent.

The local results followed the statewide pattern on the remaining ballot questions, with voters approving the widening of a 30-mile stretch of the Maine Turnpike, and environmental and transportation bond issues.

Like voters statewide, area voters decided against modifying the Constitution of Maine to extend voting rights to mentally ill individuals who are under guardianship.

Greenwood Historical driving toward $49,000 needed to purchase building

Interior artifacts already donated by family of Don Bennett

By ALISON ALOISIO

The one hundred members of the Greenwood Historical Society -- along with their growing collection of 19th-century spinning wheels, butter churns, snowshoes and other artifacts -- want to move into a new home. But, like many growing families, they need help with the financing.

The society is outgrowing its current home, a small, former mill house on Route 26 in Locke Mills. They plan to purchase the house next door and its two barns, owned by the family of the late Donald Bennett.

After Bennett's death last winter, society president Ivan Morey asked for and got, first refusal on the 19th-century property from Bennett's widow, Elsie.

The family had already decided to donate the furnishings and other contents of the house to the society.

The society needs a total of $49,000 to purchase the property.

So far, about $6,300 has been raised expressly for the property, and another $20,000 will come out of the society's funds.

Secretary Joyce Hathaway is optimistic the members will reach their goal. "I'm confident we'll make it," she said. "We just have to get out and push. We haven't had a membership drive in years, but we're going to now."

There are currently just under 100 lifetime members, with about 20 who attend monthly meetings.

The society meets now in a small house it has owned since the 1960s. Morey said members would like to move the meeting place to the Bennett home, and use the house and barn to display and store the many artifacts the society has collected over the years.

The society will also gain many artifacts from the Bennett's donation. "There's thousands of artifacts in there," said Morey. "You name it, they're there."

He named a few himself, includ-

Bethel selectmen vote to curb Kelley's

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Curbings in front of Kelley's had been included in both the original plan for the reconstruction of Mechanic Street and in the business's expansion plan approved by the board in 1994.

But sometime during the next three years the curbing disappeared from the road plan. Town officials are not certain when, or by whom, the decision to remove it was made, but the selectmen have acknowledged the town's responsibility.

The curbing is expected to cost approximately $3,000, with the money to come from the state's reimbursement for work already performed by the town on the Heath Bridge.

Curbings in front of Kelley's had been included in both the original plan for the reconstruction of Mechanic Street and in the business's expansion plan approved by the board in 1994.

But sometime during the next three years the curbing disappeared from the road plan. Town officials are not certain when, or by whom, the decision to remove it was made, but the selectmen have acknowledged the town's responsibility.

According to Kelley's owner Roger Charest, the disappearance of the curbing (and the sidewalk that was to accompany it) left him no practical choice but to pave the area between the building and the street.

Charest was using the same paving contractor as the town, he told the board Monday, and he had to make some fast decisions when we were told there were to be no curbs and the pavement was coming tomorrow.

And while that decision may have been made in haste, Charest and store manager Spencer Couture said it made sense: since the present arrangement makes for convenient parking and the lack of curbs facilitates snow removal and parking by

PUTTING A FRIGHT INTO CRIME

Bethel police officers Darren Tripp (left) and Mike Monzo patrolled Bethel Village by bike on Halloween night. They were among a total of five officers on duty that night. Police chief Dale Bellman said the bike patrol worked out well, and the officers stopped to talk to many pedestrians throughout the evening.

And, he said, "Their presence out there was a deterrent." Only two incidents were reported that night, Bellman said.

INDIAN COMMISSION MEETING

To the Editor:

On Friday, Nov. 14, the Maine Indian Tribal-State Commission will meet at the Well Center on the Passamaquoddy Reservation at Pleasant Point.

Diana Scully, executive director of the commission, has invited Jeff Rosenblatt to attend this meeting, where among other things the agenda will include a discussion of Albany Township. The meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m.

If anyone is interested in attending this meeting, please contact me and we will arrange for transportation. Call 527-2138 for additional information.

Dorothy Duddy
President, Albany Improvement Association

WHO'S BEHIND THE APPLICATION?

To the Editor:

I was shocked to learn from the letter of former Passamaquoddy tribal governor Allen J. Sockabasin (Oct. 16) of the poor communication among the tribe members. His statement, "Many Passamaquoddy people were not aware that a hearing concerning the proposed bingo issue" was to take place in your community until several hours after the testimony had begun." I see that Mr. Sockabasin does not live on the reservation, but how is it that a former high official of the tribe would not know about the hearing? How many Passamaquoddy also didn't know?

In fact, the larger question, "How did the Passamaquoddy tribe as a whole authorize the LURC application for a high stakes bingo hall in Albany?" needs to be adequately answered. Certainly it was not answered at the hearing. In fact, this raises the collateral question, "Is the LURC application a legal action of the tribe as a whole?"

CAN SOMEBODY EXPLAIN TO ME?

To the Editor:

I would like to thank all those who signed our petition to strengthen our appeal with FERC. It was a pleasant surprise to see how many people actually do not like the idea of this pipeline. Hindsight tells me that we should have taken it to the streets sooner in order to give a voice to the silent majority. The problem has been, and still is, that people are not given all the information concerning this issue.

Through all this we have tried to give facts, raise questions, and supply information all of which we can back -- yet it was always considered questionable. Why? Why would our motives be anything else but sincere concern for our neighborhood, its safety, rural character, and property rights? Can somebody explain to me what makes PNGTS the good Samaritan with our community in mind?

IT'S ALL AT THE MPB

To the Editor:

The Maine Publicity Bureau is now finishing its fourth month of operations at the Evans Notch Ranger Station in Bethel. A great location for the largest tourism industry association in the State of Maine, busy routes 2 and 26 provide as many as 200 visitors a day.

The MPB is a private, nonprofit company with eight centers statewide located in the towns of Kittery, Hampden (north and south), Calais, Houlton, Fryeburg, Yarmouth, and Bethel. Hallowell is home to the warehouse and business offices.

The MPB provides a wide range of publications to the public and visitors to Maine. These include brochures from members that use the bureau as an advertising medium to promote their businesses and MPB-published travel guides to different regions and areas throughout the state. Everything from bed and breakfasts, inns, motels, attractions, campgrounds, and much more can be found on its shelves. The MPB can also provide accurate and timely information using a database system that has listings for all members. In most cases, phone numbers, rates and an exact location can be found in this system.

If a business benefits from Maine's visitors, its participation and membership is welcomed. The MPB has reasonable membership rates for businesses, restaurants, churches, accommodations, chambers of commerce and many more. The membership is paid annually and there are brochure display fees that go along with the dues. Each member has the flexibility of picking and choosing which centers to utilize for advertising. Members are automatically entered into the database for quick references but are not required to display brochures. Non-members may advertise as well; however, rates are higher. A special introductory rate for the Bethel site is available now through the end of December.

Members of the bureau receive advertising in MPB publications, the bureau's newsletter, a full profile in the database, and many other opportunities that the bureau has to offer which are all part of the membership package.

Membership applications and more information can be picked up during office hours at 18 Mayville Road in Bethel. The hours are Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Wednesday through Sunday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The staff of the Bethel site would like to extend its thanks for the support of the residents of Bethel. A special thanks to Wende Gray for the large role she played in bringing this vital part of Maine's tourism industry to Bethel. With continued support from and usage by the townspeople, this office of the MPB is guaranteed a very successful future here.

We welcome everyone to come in and browse. For more information, please call 824-4582 during office hours to speak to the manager, David Lane, or a travel counselor about these opportunities today.

REMEMBERING ENSIGN ALLEN AND THE OKLAHOMA

To the Editor:

A memorial to all those who lost their lives aboard the Battleship Oklahoma is scheduled to be dedicated on Memorial Day 1998 at the Veteran's Memorial Gardens in Oklahoma City. More than a half century after the tragic events at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, one of Bethel's sons will have his name inscribed on the memorial. Ensign Stanley Allen was the first of 15 brave young men from Bethel to pay the ultimate price for the freedom we all enjoy today in America. Mundt-Allen Post 81, American Legion here in Bethel recently received a letter from the U.S.S. Oklahoma Memorial Committee which I would like to quote:

"We are aware of the fact that your Post 81 memorializes our lost shipmate, Ensign Stanley Allen. The few surviving members of the U.S.S. Oklahoma are erecting a monument with the names of all of our lost shipmates. The Memorial will be of red Oklahoma granite and situated in the Veteran's Memorial Gardens at the state capital in Oklahoma City."

"We have located relatives of 233 of those who perished that day in December 1941. However, we have been unable to locate any relatives of Ensign Stanley Allen. It would be greatly appreciated if your American Legion Post and community might help us memorialize this young man and the other 428 men who perished with him.

"Anything your Post and community can do would be greatly appreciated. Many of them died terrible traumatic deaths, trapped for days or possibly weeks, in dark, damp and eventually airless compartments. Only 35 of their bodies were ever identified. Thank you for your kind interest in this matter. The Committee."

Mundt-Allen Post 81, American Legion, Bethel is making a substantial contribution to this memorial. Other individuals and organizations who wish to participate in this act of love, gratitude and remembrance may do so. Checks should be made payable to "U.S.S. Oklahoma Memorial Fund" and sent to American Legion Post 81, PO Box 618, Bethel, ME 04217. We will then forward these contributions on to the Oklahoma Committee. A special time of gratitude will be scheduled at our Post home before year end to thank and honor all those who were kind enough to participate in this most worthy endeavor.

The Political Surplus-Money Edge

By MIKE BROWN

In the year 2000, assuming that following the 1998 elections there are failed challenges to the state's Clean Elections Act, political campaign moneys heretofore will be limited, or at least somewhat restrained. But 2000 is political light years away.

Although the Act would abide candidates to refuse private contributions in lieu of public funding and adhere to raising donations in five-buck bunches, the resistance to such draconian changes in politics is quite evident although mostly latent at present.

The Act's road is paved with such obstacles as free speech (giving personal unlimited funds to one's own campaign -- a US Supreme Court affirmation) a divisive legislative $2 million appropriation and a state income tax return check-off box. Deep potholes, surely.

Then, of course, there are the political party spines. The Republicans look askance at the Act as a Democratic ruse to curtail their rather successful fund-raising acumen and level the election playing field. Ironically, the Democrats who are in elected legislative majority and have a party friend in the governor's chair, say the Act is needed to stop "political business as usual."

There are some interesting facts and figures languishing in records at the state's ethics office which seems to indicate that the Act if ratified will not change one aspect of campaign money very much. And that is surplus political campaign funds and their disposition.

For instance, as of the end of September 1997, incumbent senators of both parties have in their cumulative hands, or bank accounts, or whatever, $86,606 in cash balance surplus 1996 political campaign contributions that they have not spent. Senators, by virtue of their larger constituent districts, raise more money than their representative counterparts.

The largest surplus is in the pocket of Sen. Phil Harriman (R-Yarmouth). Harriman raised $51,878 but only spent $23,000 and has a cash balance of $28,877 with zero loans outstanding. A Republican senate colleague, Joel Abramson of Portland who raised $65,243, the 1996 senatorial record, has a $6,547 surplus.

Both minority Senate Republican floor leaders have tidy surplus cash on hand. Jane Amero of Cape Elizabeth has $8,729. Leo Kieffer of Caribou raised $30,855 but only spent $21,755 so has a $9,079 political nest egg ready for hatching. Sen. Jeff Bufton (R-Cumberland), and former senate president, has socked away $5,471 in campaign surplus. Sen. Steve Hall (R-Guilford), and who is not running for reelection in 1998, has $4,694 in his surplus kitty.

Incumbent Democratic senators tended to spend most of their campaign contributions. For instance, Sen. Chellie Pingree of North Haven raised $51,329 for the $7,500-a-year job and spent the whole wad on campaign paraphernalia. She out polled her opponent 2-1. But other Democratic senators have nifty campaign surpluses. Susan Longley of Liberty had contributions of $24,708, but has a surplus of $4,174 after trouncing Chuck Weser of Northport 12,147 - 5,121.

Independent Sen. Jill Goldthwait of Bar Harbor, who defeated her 1996 opponent, Republican candidate Ralph Pinkham, apparently didn't need all of her $20,984 campaign war chest to defeat Pinkham 12,561-6545. Goldthwait has a $4,658 surplus.

The approved disposition of these surpluses is legally fuzzy. They are stipulated in election laws and practices. Included are pro rata distribution to authorized political committee contributors -- giving back which rarely happens. Also, a gift to a state political party, and unrestricted gift to the state, carrying forward the surplus for use by the candidate for a subsequent election, transferring to another candidate, repaying loans or other debts to defray campaign expenses incurred in the proper performance of the office of which the candidate was elected (and what does slippery "other debts" and "proper performance" mean anyway?) Or a gift to a tax-free charitable or educational organization.

There is an obvious and unfair incumbent advantage in the surplus campaign money distribution law because the contributions are almost always used for political purposes. That is, a money boot-up advantage for the candidate running for re-election, or if not then an allowable gift to another candidate or political action committee.

Unfair because, for instance, persons contributing to the campaign of a favorite candidate has no say whether that candidate uses that contribution for reelection, which the donor does not now favor, or a gift to a PAC the donor does not support. And under the law, the holders of these surplus campaign funds have four years to dispose of them.

As the money rolls indefinitely indicate, incumbent state senators of both parties have at least a $86,000 head start in the coming 1998 elections -- if they so choose to run.

No SSDC breaks for daycare

BETHEL--A proposal to reduce the Sewer System Development Charge for daycare providers has died on the desk of the town attorney. Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, recently suggested that the fee to be charged a new daycare business could be calculated on a different formula than that used for other businesses, effectively cutting the daycare fee by more than half. Dresser's proposal was in response to complaints the present system discourages would-be daycare providers -- at a time when more daycare openings are badly needed by town families. But, Dresser said Monday, when the town attorney reviewed the proposal "it died fast. He said it was discriminatory. We just couldn't do it."

Tavern expected to come down

NEWRY--The one-time owner of the Poplar Tavern owns it again -- and plans to take care of the hazard posed by the now burned-out shell of the 19th century resort, according to selectmen. The tavern, built around 1846, is located on the Bear River Road. It burned in a fire in November 1995, while it was on the real estate market. It was not insured, and the state fire marshal's office ruled the blaze arson. This past summer selectmen decided what was left of the tavern should come down, because they considered the unstable structure to be dangerous. But they were unable to contact the owner, Bruce Connor of Chelmsford, Mass. But selectmen have since received word that Thomas Bartholomew, who held the mortgage on the property all along, has foreclosed because Connor had stopped making payments. He has received a judgment stating he is the owner, according to Sylvia Gray, Newry's administrative assistant. "He has indicated he will have (the tavern) taken care of," said Gray.

Should state police field 911 calls?

PARIS--A state police official will meet Nov. 6 with Oxford County Commissioners to discuss what role the police could play in dispatching emergency personnel in the county. The commissioners requested a meeting after finding it would cost $500,000 to build and equip a communications center at the Sheriff's Department. Commissioners are considering whether fielding E-911 calls and dispatching police, fire or ambulance personnel can be done from two different locations. Municipal departments prefer to have the answer service and dispatching at the same location, according to Jim Davis, chief deputy. The 6 p.m. meeting, to be held in the commission office at the courthouse, is open to the public.

County budget trimmed

PARIS--Oxford County Commissioners last week cut $106,000 from the 1998 county budget proposed by department heads -- with most of the reduction coming from the jail account. The commissioners' proposed budget is $3,080,092 (costing 9.11 percent more in taxes), compared to $3,186,502 requested by department heads (costing a 5.68 percent increase). Cut from the budget were two additional corrections officers at the jail, which currently relies on part-time jailers to fill shifts. But many do not stay in the position long, leaving when they can get a full-time job elsewhere.

King to market hospitality industry

NEWRY--Gov. Angus King volunteered Tuesday to be the official vice president of marketing for Maine's hospitality industry. The governor spoke to the annual meeting of the Maine Innkeepers Association at the Summit Hotel. King recommended that tourism be expanded through the calendar year in all geographical regions. He said the period from mid-September to mid-October is rivaling July in most businesses. He also said Maine would become more appealing as areas south of Maine become more developed. The same day, Maine's Forest Compact -- for which King was a key spokesman -- went down to defeat at the polls.

Northeast Bank expands

AUGUSTA--Northeast Bancorp has acquired Cushnoc Bank and Trust of Augusta. Cushnoc shareholders voted Oct. 14 to merge the bank with Northeast. Cushnoc has 90,000 shares of common stock outstanding, while Northeast has approximately 1.3 million shares. On completion of the acquisition, Northeast will have total assets of approximately $285 million.

Support gifts for seniors

LEWISTON--Western Area Agency on Aging is conducting its ninth annual Christmas Gift Project to provide bags full of small gifts to 200 homebound older people in Androscoggin, Franklin and Oxford counties. Eighteen or more gift-wrapped items are purchased, handmade or donated for each gift bag. For $12 per bag, individuals and organizations can sponsor one or more bags, with each bearing a gift tag announcing the sponsor name. For more information call 207-795-4010.

MHS seeks volunteers

NEWRY--Maine Handicapped Skiing is seeking energetic people who enjoy skiing or boarding to volunteer for the program. MHS is a non-profit organization that teaches children and adults with a physical disability how to downhill and cross country ski, snowboard and snowshoe. Volunteers must be at least 18 years old and have intermediate skiing or boarding ability. Volunteers are also needed to drive snowmobiles, take pictures and help in the office. Training clinics are conducted during November and December. For more information call 207-824-2440.

Safety zone signs available

AUGUSTA--New signs to help landowners alert hunters that a dwelling is nearby are now available free of charge from the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. The "Safety Zone" signs are intended for use by people who live adjacent to wooded tracts of land where hunters might not realize that a home is nearby. The signs will be issued in sufficient quantity to post woods within 100 yards of the dwelling, the area where the unauthorized discharge of a firearm is illegal. Although the signs are free, they must be picked up at one of the MDIF&W regional offices, such as Gray, or the main office in Augusta.

Memorial video released

BANGOR--Video tapes of the Oct. 11 dedication of the Maine State World War II Veterans Memorial are now available from participating bookstores and Associated Media Productions, Inc., 601 Main Rd., Holden, ME 04429, 207-989-5125. One tape is 30 minutes long and includes construction of the monument, TV news coverage and a patriotic video. The other tape is approximately 83 minutes long, covering the dedication of the monument itself.

One dead, two injured on opening day

AUGUSTA--Maine's deer-hunting season was opened to non-residents at dawn Saturday, but the season's opening for residents was marred by accidental shootings of two hunters and the death of another. Game wardens searching for a 50-year-old hunter who was reported missing in Augusta on Saturday night found his body in the woods off Eight Rod Road at the edge of the city early Sunday. Spokesman Paul Reynolds of the Maine Warden Service said the hunter, Kenneth Anderson of Augusta, had undergone a triple heart bypass operation recently and officials believe he died of a heart attack. His body was found at 1:50 a.m. Sunday. In St. George near Rockland, a hunter trying to hoist a loaded deer rifle to a tree stand with a rope was shot in the leg when the high-powered rifle discharged Saturday morning. Andrew Benner, 45, of Cushing, was in stable condition Sunday at Penobscot Bay Medical Center in Glen Cove with a wound to the thigh. Reynolds said Benner crawled and walked to a house near the woods after the rifle discharged. He had been hunting on the property of a friend, said Reynolds. In other opening-day incidents, a bullet penetrated the outside wall of a house on Sprague Road in Washington at about 6 a.m. before it broke two lamps and became lodged in a bedroom wall. No one was injured but wardens were investigating.

WALKAMERICA RECOGNITION--Bethel businesses and schools were honored recently by the Bethel Rotary Club for their participation in Bethel's first WalkAmerica, which benefited the March of Dimes. The walk took place in April. Pictured above are, front (from left): Pam Morgan (Northeast Bank), Sandi Endicott (P.H. Chadbourne), Bonnie Largess (Bethel MOD), Maureen Ginther (Bethel Citizen). From the Bethel Police log: Band's tour takes a detour

At 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 1 police responded to a report of two male subjects who had just walked into the complainant's basement. On arrival, the officer met an exiting vehicle. The driver said the officer was probably called because they had entered the residence accidentally. He said that he and his six friends were members of a band that was supposed to play at a Bethel restaurant, but they got lost on the way. All the subjects were searched. Two were found to be in possession of drug paraphernalia. Michael A. Rhode, 23, of Boulder, Colo., and John Garrett Jr., 21, of Long Beach, Cal., were summonsed for the offense. It was confirmed with the restaurant that the subjects were supposed to be there. All were advised to be more careful regarding what residences they entered.

Thursday, Oct. 30

At 2:19 a.m. a subject was stopped on the Mayville Road, and was found to be operating after suspension. Timothy A. Roberts, 26, of Bethel was arrested for OAS and violation of bail conditions. He was taken to the Oxford County Jail where he was processed and held without bail awaiting arraignment.

At 6:35 a.m. a SAD44 employee reported that sometime during the night someone had entered several buses and removed 10 fire extinguishers. Anyone with information regarding the incident is asked to contact the Police Department.

Friday, Oct. 31

At 2:56 a.m. a subject was stopped on the Northwest Bethel Road for violation of a learner's permit. He was found to be under the influence. David M. Barnes, 22, of Gilford was arrested and taken to the Oxford County Jail, where he was summonsed for the offense. He was held in lieu of bail.

At 8:10 p.m. police responded to a report of a fight at the intersection of Main and Spring streets. The officer received conflicting stories of mutual assault by both parties. Both were given statement forms.

At 8:33 p.m. a subject was stopped on Broad Street after the plates on the vehicle were found to be listed to another vehicle. It was then found the plates had just recently been transferred. A routine license check on the driver showed she was under suspension for failure to pay a fine. Eugenie R. Macie, 28, of Auburn, was summonsed for the offense and released.

Monday, Nov. 3

AT 4:50 p.m. a caller reported an unknown person had broken all the windows from a shack he owned in the woods. Police said they would go out and inspect the damage.

Tuesday, Nov. 4

At 1:20 p.m. a complainant came to the office and said he had found a weapon, ammunition and a holster on Route 26. He left them with police. They were later claimed by the owner.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

Planners split

"At least two members of the town Planning Board (which met jointly with the selectmen Monday to discuss the matter) agreed, Jack Cross and Don Bennett argued for leaving things as they are.

But other members expressed concern about the safety of the present arrangement, especially if traffic on the street increases -- as it is expected to in the spring when the connection into Bethel Station is completed.

Cross argued the present arrangement was safe. "They've been doing it for three years and there's been no problem," he said.

Suzie Harrington disagreed. "There's a definite need for curbing there to channel the traffic," she said.

But town planning assistant Nancy Schlieper pointed out that Planning Board debate on the matter was moot -- since the selectmen had already decided the curb was going in.

Exactly how much curb will be placed, and where, is to be decided following a site walk scheduled for today (Thursday, Nov. 6).

Once those decisions are made, the Planning Board will take up Kelley's proposals for what is to be done between the curb and the building.

Opie

framing, roofing, cedar shingling, sheetrocking and painting. She's also hung windows and dipped 66 bundles of cedar shingles in preservative.

"Opie worked full-time on the house during summer vacation, and goes straight home after school to work on it as well. All together, she estimates she's done 30 to 40 percent of the house herself. She was asked if there had been a stage in the project when she asked herself, 'What have I gotten myself into?'

"Yes," Opie said, "the sheetrock." (A sentiment not uncommon among do-it-yourself homeowners. And she only did the nails and the closet seams.)

From the perspective of safety, she's had a very successful project.

On-the-job injuries have been minor. "I hammered my thumb a few times," she said.

She credits Isham with helping her through the building project. "Don's been very patient," she said. Isham said there was only one issue on which Opie remained totally uncompromising. "She had to have dormers," he said. "When budget-cutting time came, cutting the dormers was not an option."

Instead, they went for some cheaper lumber seconds for the flooring.

Opie hopes to be in the house by Christmas. Right now, she has her father, Bill, visiting from Montana and helping out.

What does he think of his daughter's ambitious undertaking? "I'm very proud of her," he said.

DO-IT-YOURSELF—Eileen Opie of Bethel is doing much of the construction work on her Cape-style house on Paradise Road. Here, Opie takes a delivery of boards in through a second-story window.

Bethel

by Arlene Brown & Ginny Keniston
Rebecca Kendall and Barbara D. Brown recently enjoyed a two-day trip to Westport, Conn., where they visited Dr. Willard and Ruth Boynton, former Bethel doctor (1944-1957). The Boyntons have many fond memories of the Bethel area and inquired about numerous former patients and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlon ("Lefty") Keniston are proud to announce the arrival of great-granddaughter Savannah Elizabeth Meaux in Valencia, Calif. Savannah's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Meaux.

Dick and Carol Crandall have moved to their newly built home in Moody.

Those visiting Skidder's Deli will miss seeing Dan Smith, as he has moved to Chicago. Trish and Tom Henley are now managers at the popular Main Street deli.

Those who witnessed the Halloween Parade from Crescent Park School were well entertained. Such costumes! Such fun!

Dr. and Mrs. Lennie Shaw, Jon and Jen spent the weekend in Great Neck, N.Y., attending the wedding of Lennie's niece, Jennifer Coon, and Jeffrey Wallman. Their dog "Gus" stayed at the Kitty & Doggy Motel in West Bethel.

Barbara Herrick Brown and June Scothorne have gone to St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend three months. The Charles Raymond family have adopted Barbara's cat.

Lorrie Hoch attended a week-long retreat at Smugglers Notch Retreat sponsored by Spin Off Magazine. There were special classes and workshops on spinning throughout the week.

Harry and Barbara Kuzyk left Monday for Elliton, Fla., where they will spend the winter months. Grandson Danny will be living in their Bethel home.

United Methodist Women will meet Thursday at 1 p.m. at the church dining room. Rachel MacKay will conduct a workshop on gift wrapping. The Fall Fair will be held Nov. 14 and 15 at which time a beef stew luncheon will be served.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, 29 family members and friends gathered at the home of Susan Moore (formerly of Newry) in Harrison for a delicious potluck dinner. Following the meal, James N. Dock announced his engagement to Heidi Moore, the daughter of Susan and the late Stanley Moore Sr. Jim is the son of Roger and Susan Dock of Glastonbury, Conn. Their wedding will take place in the spring.

George, Danna, Kate, and Evelyn Nickerson have moved into their new home on Kilborn Street, recently purchased from John Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Botka have returned from a two-week trip to Florida.

Laurie Hickey and Karen Davis of Massachusetts spent the weekend with Musa Brown. Becky Crommett of Livermore joined them for the day on Saturday.

Cindy McFadden of Hanover, N.H., was in town recently, and in seeking to find the location of the former home of her great-great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Angelia Clark, was happy to find that although the present owners, Gould Academy, had moved the building (later known as the Zallen house) from Main Street to lower Elm Street, it was in good condition and surrounded by beautiful flower gardens.

The Bethel House
Communion was observed at the Bethel Alliance Church last Sunday. Reverend Mowery's sermon was titled "The Foolishness of The Cross." Four beautiful hymns were sung: "Down At The Cross," "The old Rugged Cross," "Calvary Covers It All," and "Jesus Paid It All."

Rodney and Kathleen Hanscom were in Norway last Wednesday.

Tom Russell and Margaret Quinlan were recent visitors of Irene Russell.

Paul Bartlett of Locke Mills visited his mother, Helena Bartlett, one day last week.

Vada Glover of Rumford visited with Ruth Cummings Wednesday of last week. They visited with Amy Hanscom at the Rumford Community Home, had a lovely lunch at Teena's, and also played cribbage. Ruth is now only one game ahead.

Some of the Bethel House residents and others enjoyed watching the Halloween Parade of the Crescent Park School on Friday. It was very nice and the weather was not any colder than Mollyockett Day.

Ghosts and goblins and other weird creatures visited residents of the Bethel House for trick or treat last Friday evening. The residents of the Bethel House enjoyed it as much as the young folks, I am sure.

It was reported on TV that 2.5 inches of rain fell in Bethel from the wee early hours of Saturday morning through noon on Sunday.

Tom and Irene Russell were in Cumberland Center and visited with Judy Gagnon last Sunday.

Sonny Cummings took Ruth Cummings to Lewiston to see eye specialist Dr. Marc Daniels on Monday.

TELSTAR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Telstar Alumni Association met at Telstar Regional High School on October 14th. The By-laws were revised and will be submitted for approval at the next regular meeting, which will be held on Monday, November 10th due to the Veteran's Day Holiday.

On the agenda was the upcoming dance at the American Legion Hall in Lock Mills on November 8, 1997 from 8:30 to 12:30 with the Impalas, featuring on lead guitar Bob Tift (Class of '71) and lead singer Peter Knight (husband of Cris Henry Knight, Class of '72). The public is invited to attend as well as alumni and teachers. Come and see former classmates and friends. Tickets are on sale at Prebs in Bethel and South Paris or by calling Sally Smith at 875-3335, Judy Coolidge at 824-4005, or Carolyn Johnson at 875-3910. Raffles are still being planned at this time.

Our Association meeting attendance is minimal at this time, but all Alumni from Telstar are invited and urged to attend.

We had previously planned to have a variety show, but lacked in the number of people to get the event rolling. If anyone would like to help us get a variety show in the works or has any ideas, please get in touch with any Alumni listed above.

Mason Township

by Richard Grover
Due to several requests, I propose writing occasional articles about many goings-on in the town of Mason.

Now I realize that many of you probably don't know where Mason is, but as Joe Perham says of West Paris, Mason is "right in the middle of things." Why, you can't hardly climb Caribou Mountain without getting into the north side of Mason, and I bet you didn't realize that Pooh Corner Farm is in Mason, not Gilead. Also, when you head out the Flat Road on the way to Crocker Pond, you cut right across the southeast corner of Mason just after the dirt road becomes asphalt again. And, can you believe it? As you turn off the Flat Road and head for the Speckled Mountain Ranch, you enter Mason as soon as you cross the bridge. So as I said, we're right in the middle of things.

And, Mason is full of money-making enterprises. We have heavy industry (that is, logging, and if you don't think logging is heavy, you haven't handled a peevy lately), agriculture (Pooh Corner Farm and the Speckled Mountain Ranch), tourism (Telemark Inn with its llama treks and cross-country skiing, sleigh riding and other rustic kinds of stuff), and recreation (lots of deer hunting, red spot fishing and hiking galore).

Finally, I haven't made a complete census, but I think there are about 40, or so year-round residents in our fair village. These include 38 or 39 friendly folks and one or two old gourches. So, if things work out, I'll be relating some of the goings-on, legends and maybe a few "damn lies" in future issues of this fair newspaper.

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

Sympathy is extended to the family of Vern Swan, who passed away last week. Also, sympathy to the family of Richard Vittum, a former resident of Woodstock.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet (today) Thursday, Nov. 6, at the Grange Hall. Dinner will be put on by the Woodstock Alumni Association and the program will be a game party. Each person should bring an item for the game party.

Judith Grover Tent 17 Daughters of Union Veterans will meet on Monday, Nov. 10. This is nominations of officers. Please remember to bring your items for veterans to use as gifts or as a gift for a veteran. Helvi and Michele Cary are on refreshments.

The Historical Society has received the clothespin sign that used to be on top of Mann's Mill. It was donated by Ellie Andrews in honor of her parents. Dennis Corrin got a group together to help move it.

Lewis M. Mann originally established the mill in Bryant Pond and it produced a number of items but was especially known for the clothespins, which were known as "Maine's Best". Thanks to all who helped with the project.

The benefit supper held for Lucille Robbins was very well attended.

On Wednesday evening Ralph and Joyce Hoyt, Eric and Farrah Hoyt and children, Ken and Alice Hoyt, and Beatrice Farnum attended a birthday party for Shirley Hoyt McKenna at the Rumford Grange Hall.

The Historical Society enables like-minded people to gather, enjoy themselves, and learn important things about their heritage. Meetings always feature an informative program, refreshments and interesting conversation. It is a time for growing and sharing. Plan to attend. The society will hear Dennis Gross speak on minerals in this area at its next meeting. The society regrets the passing of Verna Swan, a faithful member and a distinguished citizen in the community for many years.

North Newry

by
Gil Seeley

Call to Worship was held at the Newry Community Church on Sunday morning, Oct. 26, 9 a.m., with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The Message of the Day was, "Our hope cometh from the Lord. He Healeth the broken Hearts, and Bindeth their Wounds." A responsive reading was given by Bob Munro. After the service coffee and goodies were enjoyed and more gifts presented to Gil Seeley on her 90th birthday. Thank you all so much and God Bless you.

Jackie Kaunelis, Rose Enos, Theresa Toti and Karen Green, relatives from Rhode Island, also Ray Bauchaine from Coventry, R.I., came to North Newry to help me celebrate my birthday last week.

Karlene Bachelder, Gil Seeley, Eleanor Davis, Bea Lowell, Doris Parent and Betsy Clark were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week to do some bowling for fun. Betsy's mother, Dot Dore from New Hampshire, who was spending a week with the Clarks, was a guest. On the overall scores, Karlene was high on the singles and triples. Of the "Righties," Bea was high on the singles and also beat Doris by four pins on the triples.

Karlene had one strike and two spares, Gil had four spares, Bea had two spares, and Eleanor had one spare. All went to lunch at Freddie's and then went to do some shopping. We wish Dick Clark a speedy recovery.

A special meeting was held Thursday night at the Town Building with some members of the Newry Mothers Club, Karlene Bachelder, Nancy Wight and Gil Seeley, and a committee of volunteers, Loretta Berry, Gail Wight, Brenda Wight and Eleanor Davis. It was decided to have a Public Supper on Saturday, Nov. 15, at 5:30 p.m. at the Grange Hall. Price: $5 for adults and $2.50 for children. The menu will be: baked beans, American chop suey, hot dogs, cole slaw, etc., drinks, pies, and other desserts. A 50/50 drawing will take place and there will be plenty of friendly conversation. The money made from it will help the club meet the demands of the school graduation gifts and other children's activities. Come one, come all. Thank you. The Newry Mothers Club will meet Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Town Building with Olive Anderson and Gil Seeley on the refreshments. The Mystery Prize was won by Gil Seeley. There will be more talk about the supper during the evening.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Helen and Harold Stout are at home now after being away visiting at the home of their son and family in Falmouth.

Lois and Ed Niemi called on Frank Packard at the Norway Convalescent Center on Tuesday last week.

Eleven members of the Stoneham Volunteer Firemen met for their regular meeting on Tuesday evening at the Fire Station. After the meeting, members cleaned and worked on their equipment.

There is a Hunter's Supper at the HAPPY RETIREMENT—Northeast Bank assistant vice president Roger Conant, who has worked in banking for 38 years, was honored with a retirement party last week. About 90 people attended the gathering. Here, Conant (center) is congratulated by Ron Kendall, vice president of Northeast Financial Services, Inc. and Pamela Morgan, Bethel branch manager.

East Stoneham Church on Thursday night, Nov. 6, 5:30 p.m. Home baked beans, brown bread, casseroles, pies, etc. You don't have to be a hunter to attend, I believe that this is the last public supper of the season there. You are all welcome to come and bring an appetite.

Also, there is a public Hunter's Breakfast Saturday, Nov. 8, at the Kezar Lake Grange Hall at North Lovell from 4:40 to 8 a.m. You don't have to be a hunter to attend that either. They will have pancakes, sausage, home fries, eggs, coffee and juice, etc. Cost for adults will be $4 and under 12 $2. It sounds like a good deal.

Helen Stout has been doing some sewing for Eleanor Nelson this past week.

Alta and Bruce Smith have a new great-granddaughter. She is the daughter of Michael and Jill Levine of Beverly, Mass., and the granddaughter of Elaine Johnson. Her name is Arial Grace, and she was born on Oct. 25 at Beverly.

Mass. Arial joins two brothers, Zachary who is 7 yrs old and Jake who will soon be 4 years old. Congratulations go out to the happy family.

Frances Grant and I went to Gildead Cemetery and placed flowers and greens on our Aunt Goldie Wright's lot there and stopped at the Riverside Cemetery in Bethel and put some flowers and greens on a lot there.

Darlene Dunn has been doing some work for Albert Nelson Jr. this week.

Carolyn Heino called on her Aunt Josephine and Uncle Roland McAllister one day this past week at West Paris Ledgerview Nursing Home.

The snow is gone from the ground here but one of these days it is going to stay on. Please, everybody drive carefully and do go vote on Tuesday.

West Paris

by

West Paris His-

met on the 20th
with 32 members in attendance. A potluck supper

preceded the meeting. Plans were finalized for the Hunter's Breakfast. Olga Gellatly entertained us by playing patriotic and old melodies as well as hymns. Singing was enjoyed. It was a joy to watch this accomplished pianist of 93 years. Olga will be wintering in Arizona with her daughter. A lovely cake made by Nancy Penley and decorated by Charlene Ring was presented to Olga and served to the members. A framed certificate of appreciation was also given to her.

Bill and Ginny Aridas returned to New York after being here for several days.

On Oct. 22 we went to the home of our daughter Vickie's son-in-law, Sandy Sanborn's for a spaghetti supper and surprise birthday party with balloons, streamers, birthday cake, ice cream and gifts.

Those present were Ginny Aridas, Marshall Inman, Walter and Kim Inman and Walter Jr., Todd and Tara Bouchard and Todd III, Vern Inman and the host and hostess, Brant and Caroline. To be sure it was a fun time.

Marshall Inman returned to Fairbanks, Alaska, on Monday after spending the past two weeks here.

We accompanied Milton and Eleanor Inman to West Baldwin one evening this week where we visited Aunt Millie Wentzell and Erland and Margie Wentzell. We enjoyed having supper at their Grange, where Milton showed some Alaska slides.

Mr. and Mrs. Comley, who now live in New York, visited Claribel Poland one day this past weekend. Tommy Poland and Sandra Monzo also called on Claribel and visited for a while.

Vicki Hill and Donna Koshiba had supper with their grandmother and mother, Clairabel Poland, on Wednesday night. They try to do this quite often.

Rosalie Poland has had a bad case of bronchitis for several weeks. She went to the doctor in Norway one day to get some relief. We are sorry to read of the death of Richard McAllister of Buckfield. He was the father of a friend of mine, Kelly Wilkinson. We send much sympathy to all his family and friends.

Richard Wing is having a couple of days off from his work with MDOT in Bethel this week.

Joe Pete Appleby stopped by several mornings to have coffee with Richard Wing before Richard goes to work in Bethel.

The willing workers are selling tickets on a Thanksgiving basket. They are 50 cents each and are for complete fixings for the dinner. It will be drawn Nov. 22.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society reports that he has given an attractive landscape to the museum. He also has done some rearranging in the building. He is pleased with the exhibits. The officers and committee of the society are organized for the coming year.

Happy Birthday to all those celebrating in November. They are: Erlon Hadley Sr., Kris Miclon, Amanda Miclon, Tim, Poland, Perry Ryerson, Anna Ryerson, Sandra Monzo, Caesar Morgan, Diana Dunn, Lorena Wilson, Faith Verrill, Jerrod Verrill, Dale Hadley, Don Mason Sr., Danny Brown, Ozzie Hart, Isabel Brown, Margery Gleason, Anne Dunham, Priscilla Staley and Randy Wilday. A special birthday wish to my sister-in-law, Joan Poland. Hope you all have a nice day.

Anniversary wishes for November go to Vince and Beverly Stevens, Herbert and Eleanor Ryerson and Don and Virginia Mason.

Rarely do we observe the exact time of the songbirds departure, but we realize at some time that the companions of our summer days have been swept away, but not the blue jays. They are with us during the winter, beautiful to look at but unwelcome at the bird feeders, where they consume everything.

It doesn't seem possible that October leaves us this week. (written on Oct. 29)

Now the sun peeps between cloud fingers behind an etching of tree tops far beyond the hills. Their branches in black stand like spires and steeples against the heavens. November finds them discarding their finery, while leaves drift deep and rustle frail and dry against the wind. There are living pictures found in pines and spruces, where the hills rise steep toward the sky. Peace is caught in the valley. Only the oaks plaster the hillsides with their copper brightness. Leaf mold is in the making.

The wild geese have been seen flying south. When that flying wedge sweeps across the sky with its far carrying clamor all who see and know the message; the frost is closing the northern waters and they are honking their salute to another robust winter, where they'll stay for warmer days.

If you think you are seeing something strange, you are. There is a man on a mowing machine cutting a big field of grass on the Holt farm on this 29th day of October and on the distant hills a few snowflakes are falling. This top field wasn't cut over when the other fields were "hayed" in August so now it is being done to keep brushes from growing. I presume it's the first time it is being done on this date. I wonder what the remarks are by "onlookers".

All the children of Leonas and Gay Holt and their children, Robert, Ann, and David, were at home on Sunday for dinner.

I have had several callers this last week all, of whom I have enjoyed.

The Inman families got together last Sunday and went hiking and exploring. They had a cookout somewhere along the way. They had a jolly time.

Some mornings the pond has had a skim of ice but thus far it hasn't remained for long.

Howdy Friends, another week has passed and I'll try to let you know what Peggy and I have been doing for the week.

We finished our harvesting from the gardens on Monday, as we gathered and processed the kale ready to go into the freezer.

We attended Franklin Grange Monday evening. Richard Felt, our master, was back with us to take his office, so it seemed like old times once more. He didn't get a very warm reception as the heat wasn't turned on until we got there a little earlier. As part of the program, Jim Chandler, who works on the Soil and Water Conservation, was present and talked and showed a video on their trying to improve the water quality of the Little Androscoggin and other water sources. It was very interesting and we should all try to do our part.

After I got my news ready to mail to the Bethel Citizen for printing, Peggy and I went downtown Tuesday morning. Peggy had posters to put up advertising the Benefit Supper for Lucille Robbins and to take care of some last-minute errands as we prepared to represent Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond, at the State Grange Convention at Bangor's Civic Center.

We got our first snowflakes here on Wednesday morning but it soon was gone.

We got our suitcases packed with the necessary clothing and pills, and left for Bangor just a very few minutes after noontime. We hit quite a variety of weather on our way to Bangor, but nothing that was very bad. We had a good trip down, but stopped to inspect the facilities at several of the rest areas along the way. We arrived at the Penobscot Inn about 3:30 p.m., where we had a room reserved for us. We had a room on the first floor that was quite well furnished and the beds were nice, but didn't feel like these at home.

We had to register for the convention soon after 8 a.m. on Thursday morning. The session actually started at 10 a.m., but there were delegates to register, from all different Granges all over the state of Maine.

A lot of business was taken care of during the first day, and Thursday evening was the annual banquet, with a program that followed. We had a very nice banquet this year. The food was well prepared and plentiful. It was kept hot and those putting on the feast were right there to make sure that there was always plenty of each item of food and we had a good variety to choose from.

The program that followed the banquet was also quite interesting.

The State Grange session started at 9 a.m. on Friday morning. This was to be a busy day as this was the day for election of officers for the next two years. Election of officers took up much of the day and we ended up with many changes being made.

Our state master, Clyde Berry, didn't want to be re-elected after having served eight years in that capacity, and Arthur Herbert, from Old Town, who had been the chief deputy for many years, was elected to take his place. There were many other changes with some younger officers being elected, and I think that was a good thing. There were several names suggested for several of the offices and the delegate body had to vote three or four times on some of the officers before anyone received a majority of the votes.

Saturday forenoon was taken up with activities by the Youth Grange and Junior Granges, but we found it quite enjoyable to watch. They are, hopefully, our future Grangers and they need all the encouragement we can give them.

The State Grange degree was conferred on 47 candidates, both young and old.

Peggy and I left about 5 p.m. and had a beautiful trip home. We made one stop in Lewiston and stopped again at the Irving store in South Paris, but we still got home at 7:45 p.m.

Sunday afternoon, we attended the funeral for Verna Swan at the Bryant Pond Baptist Church. The church was well filled with friends and relatives, who all thought of Verna as a very special friend.

When my parents moved from Norway on to the farm down on the Old County Road, the Whitman family lived just across the brook from us. Verna, then a teenager, loved to come to our home and rock me, as I was only a few months old then.

We wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family and friends. Verna will be sadly missed by all.

Tammy Farnum from Bryant Pond was a recent caller at Mary Lovejoy's home.

David Small, from Kennebunkport, visited the Lovejoys on Sunday.

WHAT HATH RILEY WROUGHT—Eighth graders at Telstar Middle School last week built a 300-foot telegraph wire system outside the school. The project was part of a combined social studies and science study of western expansion in the United States. After finding car batteries were not strong enough to power the system, science teacher Tom Riley and the students converted it to transmit Morse Code dots and dashes in the form of light. Here, Mike Swan strings wire between poles as Jay Hanscom and parent Gina Douglass help. (Photo by Alison Aloisio)

Agnes Gray School

Our entire school is sending thanks to Mr. Sandy Sondheim for his excellent informative presentation on the effects of pollution in our marine environment, and ways to prevent such pollution. Mr. Sondheim is an active member of the Coast Guard Reserve, and showed us how the Coast Guard is involved with all the pollution at sea. Please recycle, or properly dispose of all your plastic waste. It is killing our sea animals.

Our Halloween parade and parties have come and gone for another year. We hope you had a chance to see us parading around West Paris.

Our Read Street Book Fair will be taking place on Nov. 7 for children at school, and again during Parent Teacher Conferences on Monday, Nov. 10.

Mrs. Beverly Stevens is the new librarian at the "castle" library in West Paris. She is in the process of making plans to work with the school so more children will become active library patrons.

All students will be participating this week in a walk-a-thon in the gym to raise money for playground equipment and other extra items that the parent volunteer group will be providing for our school.

The fifth-graders will be selling apple pies for Thanksgiving and put the money toward the Boston trip, which has been scheduled for May 22. Order slips will be coming home with students. If you don't get one, but would like to order, please call the school at 674-2332. The pies will be $6 each.

We are not just doing fundraisers. Reading, writing, arithmetic, science and social studies are going on in every grade. Last week, the whole school enjoyed the science program on space from the Northern Stars Planetarium. This week, the Cool Kids, the third-graders, and their pen pals from Hebron enjoyed a trip to the Whispering Pines Mine. They brought back lots of great finds, and spent an enjoyable lunch hour together at our school. The fifth-graders are participating again in Operation Dear Abby and are writing to men and women in the service who don't get home for the holidays. Some great letters are being written, with the October train derailment being a hot topic.

More news later.

Howe placed ninth in a field of 58 runners in the Class D race, held in Augusta. In a meet dominated by eastern Maine schools -- eastern runners took the top five spots -- Howe was the third-best western division runner. Howe beat several runners who had bested her a week earlier in regional competition.

U of M Extension offers Master Gardener class

The University of Maine Cooperative Extension will offer its popular Master Gardener program in the winter/spring of 1998. "Master Gardener is a wonderful program that brings together gardeners from around the state as well as provides opportunities to get together with gardeners from around the nation," said Barbara Murphy, Extension educator for Oxford County.

Participants in the Master Gardener program will receive 13 three-hour training sessions on gardening starting Jan. 6. After successful completion of the training program, each Master Gardener will volunteer 40 hours to a community gardening project.

The 1998 program will focus on food production -- the planting and care of tree fruits, small fruits and vegetables.

The cost for the program is $50.00, which includes a two-volume reference manual. The course will run mostly Tuesday and some Saturday mornings starting Jan. 6, from 9 to 12 a.m. at the Extension Office in South Paris. For more information or to request an application form for the program, please call the Oxford County Extension Office at 743-6329 or 1-800-287-1482.

Apple Hill Chamber Players at Gould

The Gould Academy Performing Arts Series will present a performance by the Apple Hill Chamber Players on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m.

The ensemble members play a variety of music, from classic 18th-to-20th century masterpieces to new and commissioned works by leading composers, and they have won international praise for their vital, elegant, and eloquent performances.

They are permanent artists-in-residence at the Apple Hill Center for Chamber Music in East Sullivan, NH and have traveled and performed together extensively, most notably on annual trips to the Middle East, Jordan, and other Middle Eastern countries to their summer school program at the farm. The dramatic story of their 1992 tour of the Middle East was documented in the PBS film and video "Playing for Peace," by Emmy award-winning Peter Rosen, and was seen by over four million viewers.

Tickets for the performance are $6 for adults and $4 for students, and are available at the door the evening of the performance. For further information, please contact Vicki Rackliffe at 824-3575.

Business Profiles--

THE JAVA HOUSE

The Java House, located near the railroad crossing in Bethel, will reopen on Saturday, Nov. 8. Owner Jeremy Grimm describes the new Java House as a combination of a coffee house and fast, healthy lunch restaurant. Specialties are homemade muffins, fresh breads, cookies and hearty soups. New offerings will include a daily salad bar and jumbo baked potatoes with cheese, broccoli, sour cream and chives. Business hours will be 6:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Diana Marie Glynn, who did the baking for the Java House under the previous ownership, will return. Grimm, who is shown above (right) with employee Jeff Brick, may be reached at 824-0562.

POETS SOCIETY

The Bethel Area Poets Society will hold its regular monthly Poetry Reading on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7 p.m. at Cafe DiCocca on Main Street in Bethel. This is a change from the normal schedule due to the cafe being closed the last two weeks of November.

For more information, please call Duddy at 527-2138 or Graham at 824-3427.

S.H.A.R.E. PACKAGES

The Bethel Church of the Nazarene has announced that, along with the regular packages, the S.H.A.R.E. (Self Help And Resource) Program is offering a special Holiday Package in November and December.

The Holiday Package will cost $16 and may be expected to include: an eight- to 10-pound turkey, cranberry sauce, stuffing mix, potatoes, onions, carrots, celery, butternut squash, green beans or peas, oranges or pears, heat-and-serve rolls, and apples.

The Regular Package ($15) and the Vegetarian Package ($16) will still be available. Once at least one regular or one vegetarian package has been purchased, any number of meat-only Packages ($7) may also be purchased. The Regular, Vegetarian, and Holiday packages require two hours of community service per package. No additional community service is required for a Meat Only Package.

Anyone desiring to register for S.H.A.R.E. may do so at 40 Mayville Road, across from Pat's Pizza, but should first call 824-3766 for an appointment. The last registration day for November is Nov. 9. Distribution day is Nov. 22 at 11 a.m. at the church, located at 16 Church Street in Bethel.

This week at the

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 6, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This meeting will feature an oral history panel on the life and writings of the well-known writer Louise Dickinson Rich (1903-1991). A number of panelists have been assembled who either knew Mrs. Rich or are very familiar with her life and writing.

During her lifetime, Mrs. Rich wrote over 20 books, plus numerous magazine articles. Her most popular books, however, were the three that dealt primarily with the region north of Upton from Lower Richardson Lake along Rapid River to Umbagog Lake. Here she recorded in "We Took To The Woods" (1942), "Happy The Land" (1946), and "My Neck Of The Woods" (1950) her adventures of living in a remote wilderness area with only a few neighbors. These books have been read and re-read by several generations now and some have been reprinted in a number of editions, testifying to their continued popularity.

The meeting is open to anyone interested, particularly those with memories of Mrs. Rich or who have enjoyed her books.

During the past week, the Dr. Moses Mason House was thoroughly evaluated for its energy conservation properties and a number of things were done to ensure its readiness for winter thanks to a free service from Central Maine Power. Certain cracks were sealed, more weather stripping added around doors, pipes wrapped, and outlets not in use were plugged -- all part of a continuing effort by the society to make the building more energy efficient.

From the

Bethel Area C. of C.

Many thanks to all who attended the chamber's Annual General Membership meeting on Monday evening and to the Sudbury Inn for hosting it. Congratulations to the newly elected 1998 Board of Directors and especially to new members Kimberly Poland, Mollyockett Marketplace & Antique Center, West Paris; Gina Bizer, Preb's Pharmacy, Bethel; Kevin Finley, Bethel Family Health Center, Bethel; Irene McGrew, Riverview Resort, Bethel.

At the meeting those present recognized the contributions of the four outgoing board members: Gary Brearley, the Briar Lea Inn & Restaurant; Lois Ruff, Bethel Furniture Stock; Carole Duplessis, Pooh Corner Farm & Greenhouses; and Barb Testani, The Village Sampler.

Executive director Robin Zinchuk received a letter from the Governor's office confirming her appointment to the Maine Film Commission, to represent Bethel and Western Maine. Robin has already attended one meeting in Augusta where she was introduced to the dozen or so other commissioners representing varied industry groups and regions. Any questions, suggestions or comments about Robin's role and responsibilities on this board should be directed to her at the chamber office.

The Boston Snow Sports Expo (formerly the Boston Ski Show) is shaping up to be of great benefit to chamber members. Dedicated volunteers Susan Isham of the Sunday River Inn, Sheila Rollins of Women With Wings, and Doug Turcotte of Andover Guest House have already come forward willing to help. We are looking for a couple more volunteers willing to do Saturday (the 15th) or Sunday (the 16th). If you can help, please call the chamber office as soon as possible.

Card of Thanks

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to those people who have made my recovery easier. Some sent cards, some phoned, others brought meals, some cleaned, many visited, some stayed with me when I first got home, and most importantly, many prayed. I'm not sure what God had in mind with this "unexpected" surgery, but I do know that all was in His control. When Dr. Story said I was fortunate to belong to the church that I did, he was right. Bethel Alliance has been wonderful. However, I am also fortunate to have students, teachers, family & friends who care enough to show it.

Again, thank you for your kindness and prayers.
